COUNTY AUDITOR.—Many persons are urging Mr. N. R. Meeder to allow his name to go before the Union Convention, for the above office. Mr. Meader is one of our oldest and most respected citizens. If the people want a man in that office possessing the Jeffersonian qualifications of honesty, capacity, and faithfulness, no more fitting person can be found. He would be "the right man in the right place." THE PLACE.-Remember W. W. Wert's auction room, 154 Main street, is the head-quarters for boots and shoes. Don't buy them in the regular way when you can get them at less than the cost of making. He sells on commission and regardless of cost.

LAW REPORT.

PROBATE COURT. A man about thirty seven years of age named Grier, a native of Germany, was be-fore Judge Paddack for the purpose of in fore Judge Paddack for the purpose of in-quiring into his state of mind. He came to this country spout fourteen years ago, and for the last eighteen months has been a resi-dent of this county. He had worked in a furniture factory, and was a man of indus-trious habits. His intellect was observed to be impaired after protracted sickness, which commenced with ague, over a year ago, and be has since been getting worse. At inter-vals he becomes excited, and his friends and relations are apprehensive for his own or the safety of others at such times. He was sent to Longview Asylum.

In the matter of the assignment of A. G. Negly & Co., a motion was entered for leave to sell at private sale the stock assigned at fifty cents on the dollar.

Cornelius Myers was appointed guardian of the persons and estates of the minor children of Robert Taylor, late of this county, said minors being between the ages of seventeen and eight years. DISCHARGE OF A VOLUNTEER.—Benjamin F

Aydelotte, a volunteer in Colonel Kennett's Cavalry Regiment, was alleged to be illegally detained. The case having been inquired into on habeas corpus, and it appearing that the said B. F. Aydelotte was a minor, the Court ordered his discharge. Cincinnati Flarticultural Seciety. The Society met at the usual hour, President Gerard in the Chair.

A large variety of fine specimens of fruit

were presented and reported on by the Committee.
Mr. James H. Walker exhibited several ar. James H. Walker exhibited several clusters of grapes brought from Delaware-County, Pennsylvania. They were of the White Hill, Hamburg and White Sevion varieties; and one of the latter was said to weigh two and a half pounds. They were especially commended by the Committee and others.

General M. S. Wade remarked that all his fruit was imperfect this season, which he accounted for by two days of cold succeeded by wet weather. He spoke particularly with reference to his pears, of which he cultivated sixty-six varieties.

Mr. Pearson read a communication from Daziel Gano in reference to the early his-tory of horticulture in the Miami Valley. As one of the oldest horticulturists of this vicinity, though unable to attend the meetings of the Society, he had been greatly interested by resding their published proceedings, and considered that it had done great good by encouraging the raising of the best varieties of fruit, vegetables, &c., for which Cincin nati had now become justly celebrated.

The first meeting held to consider the pro-priety of organizing the Society was in the house of Robert Buchanan—long a prominent member, and the first President—on the 17th of February, 1843, at which eleven per-sons were present. Prior to this, however, the Hamilton County Agricultural Society had los ered agriculture and horticulture in on the county.

On the 28th of April, 1827, the meeting at which officers of the Society were first elected, fifteen persons were present. On the 7th of July, of the same year, forty five new members were enrolled. In 1828, at an election of officers, one hundred and five members were present and on the 27th of School Scho bers were present, and on the 27th of September, 1832, the Society consisted of four hundred and thirty four members. A paper, called the Western Tiller was communed by W. J. Ferris on the 29th of August, 1828. It was afterward changed to the quarto form for greater convenience in publishing, and at last failed from lack of support. Another Agricutural paper called the Farms and Mechanic, was afterward started by Dr. D. C. Wallace The first Agricultural exhibition was held in flutchinson's old tavern stand; a great variety of fruits and vegetables were on exhibition and the society was addressed from time to time by General Harrison, Judge Este, F. W. Thomas, S. F. Carey, and

Mr. Charles Reemelin being present, ad-Mr. Charles Reemclin being present, addressed the Society upon the subject of "Vital Forces in Plants." He reptied to papers that had been previously read in the Society, especially the one algued "Novice," in which the position was assumed that "Electricity is the vital or motive power in plant growth." Mr. Reemclin contended that no greater error than this could be promulested on the subject. mulgated on the subject. As far as chemistry can unfold or the senses perceive, there is no one such force, but it is rather a conjunction of forces co-operating to pro-duce the result. Electricity is only one of the four sisters, of which light, heat and agnetism are the others. An extract from lebig was read in support of this view. This attempt to find one general principle upon which the growth of plants depend was the cause of retarding science by direct-ing efforts in one direction, when they should have a wider scope. The speaker illustrated and enforced this view at length, the object being to dispel illusions of the past ages, and pave the way for exact knowledge.

Mr. Graham explained his views on the subject, showing that in his previous re-marks on the subject he had not differed materially from the gentleman who had just Mosher related an experiment with cabbage seed sown in two different earthen catolige seed sown in two different earthen ressels, one of which was permeated with electricity from a battery, while the other was left in its natural state. Seeds in the former appeared in forty-eight hours while in the latter they were fourteen days in coming up, there being a difference between the two of twelve days. By the time the latter had sprang up the former plants had four leaves.

Mr. Reemelin remarked that the same experiment with cold and warm air would bring about the same result, and the same would be the case with any of the motive powers mentioned. This did not therefore, disprove. but rather proved, his proposition. The Society adjourned.

THE SKETCH CLUB met last evening, on invitation of Captain Constable, at the rooms of James McLaughlin, North-east corner of Third and Walnut. The attendance was good, considering the number of members gone to the war. The entertainment excellent, both solid and fluid, the sketches none to speak of, but the mirth, song and conviviality first-rate.

CINCINNATI FEMALE SEMINARY .- This institution, the opening of which has been unavoidably delayed until the present time, will commence its next session to morrow, under favorable auspices, with Mr. Wellington H. Tyler as principal. Persons interested are referred to the advertisement.

SUICIDE -A widow, named Mrs. Shultz, who resided on Liberty-street, between Main and Sycamore, committed suicide yesterday by hanging herself to a bed-post. She was living alone, and no one can conjecture the cause which led her to the act.

The Boston Traveller, of September 11, says: We understand from an authentic source that the total amount of Southern funds, seized in this city yesterday by the United States Marshal, reached $50,000, the greater portion of which was found in the hands of the Southern Steamship Company. On the whole amount about $35,000 was in the shape of Treasury notes. These funds will be held by the Government until the close of the war, when, if the owners are and have been loyal men, they will be restored to their use

Thompson's Bank Note Reporter has the following advice to buyers of Treasury notes:
"Dealers in Treasury-notes are beginning to have trouble with irregular and informa indorsements. Better refuse as follows: "I. All indorsements by power of attorney.
"2. All notes made to a company or corporation, and indorsed by an officer.

"3. All notes that have erasures or writing on the back.
"In relation to indorsements by power of attorney, the Government will not acknowledge them unless the power is on file with the officer where the note is offered.
"In relation to indorsements of notes made

The same journal says, in relation to the Dry Goods market:

"The activity in the Dry Goods trade for the week has been chiefly confined to the jobbers, the package-houses not being so actively engaged as previously reported. Those houses which have survived the panic, and are able to present new and attractive assortments, were never making, in the aggregate, larger sales, and were never doing a more sale and profitable business. Making a large per centage, they meet the advancing tendency of prices with spirit, which strengthers holders and imparts an improved tone to the general market. The export trade has been moderate but satisfactory, although the clearances are reported as only 400 bales, in-cluding 360 to China. The Cotton-mil's in some sections are starting up on short time, working up their stocks of Cotton, which will give us, in a few weeks, a fresh supply of Goods, for a time at least, which will in vigorate trade, as the stocks at present are so small, of desirable styles, our jobbers can not supply their orders.

COVINGTON NEWS.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN KENTUCKY — A JEALOUS HUBBAND CUTS IN PIECES HIS WIFE'S PARAMOURS.— One of the most bloody tragedies that has ever occurred in this vicinity, took place in Covington night before last. Though there are numerous stories affont in regard to the cause of the affair, we give that which is probably entitled to the most credit.

A man named Wm. Nichols, who resides on Bush-street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, has been for a long time troubled with domestic difficulties, and about two weeks ago left his wife altogether. Night before last, bearing that visitors were at his house during his absence, he proceeded to the place, and satisfying himself that two men were present, he left in search of some weapon. Shortly afterward returned with a cavalry aword, and made an immediate as-sault upon the parties.

The two men, whose names were G. W. Duffey and George Rifford, were not prepared to defend themselves, but the severs cuts which both received upon their arms showed that they exerted themselves as far as possible to ward off the blows. Duffey received several deep gashes, the principal of which was one passing down from the tem-ple to the cheek-bone. Rifford's chin was hacked off, the root of the tongue being laid bare; a severe gash was cut in the top of the head to the skull, and one of his arms was nearly severed from the trunk. Both were afterward found, weltering in their blood, which covered the floor with one complete mass of gore.

They were still alive, however, and were taken to the Hospital in this city, when the best medical aid was brought in at once. It is thought, however, that Rifford can not recover, and even Duffey's life is held by a very precarious tenure. It is a most singular circumstance, that though the blows were so severe, no vital organ was reached, causing instant death.

Duffey is a man rather advanced in years, and a resident of this city. Rifford is somewhat younger, and lives a short distance up the Licking River. After committing the horrid deed, Nichols attempted to make his escape, but was ar-rested on board the Mail-boat, just as it was preparing to start for Louisville. Officers

Butts, of Covington, and Riggs, of Cincinnati, made the arrest, and consigned the nati, made the arrest, and consigned the prisoner to Hammond-street Station-house, in the latter city, whence he was taken in the afternoon and lodged in the Covington Jail. The prisoner is a thick set, stout man, probably between thirty-five and forty years of age. SERIOUS ACCIDENT WITH FIRE-ARMS. -Night before last, at the close of a choir-meeting, held at the Methodist Church on Scott street, Wm. McLaughlin was just in the act of raising to turn off the gas, when a pistol, which he carried in his side-pocket ell to the floor, and was discharged concussion, the ball entering the fleshy part of the leg below the knee, passing through, severing an artery, and causing blood to flow profusely. The wound was dressed by Dr. Thomas, and, after the loss of considerable blood, the patient was placed in a fair way to recover. THIAL OF LAYMAN. - The report of the Circuit Court in this case, was accidentally omitted yesterday morning. On the 5th of July last, D. A. Layman and Chas, Larned got into a difficulty in the bar-room of the Madison House, of which the latter was bar-tender. Layman drew a pistol and shot

Larned in the leg, crippling him for life. The Court rendered a verdict in the case of $270 fine. CIRCUIT COURT .- A large number dictments were brought in by the Grand Jury yesterday. John Dunn was indicted for felony; Harry Riff twice for resisting officers, and sixteen others were presented for selling liquor to minors, keeping tippling-houses, and for breach of the peace. The Jury was then discharged,

MOVEMENT OF SOLDIERS .- Twenty-six more men from Lewis County went by way of the Covington and Lexington Road yesterday to Camp Dick Robinson. They were recruits to complete the company from that county, a ortion of which passed over the road a few weeks ago. KENTUCKY STATE FAIR POSTPONED .- The lirectors of the Kentucky State Agricultural Society held a meeting at Frankfort last week, and determined to postpone their annual exhibition for the present year. UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT .- This Court was not in session yesterday, having adjourned over till Monday.

CAMP ROBINSON.—There are said to be ten thousand men at Camp Dick Robinson.

NEWPORT NEWS.

Public Schools.—In the public schools of this city there are now enrolled eight hun-dred and twenty pupils—a greater number than was ever before enrolled at the same season of the year. There were over one hundred new scholars admitted during the oust week. Accident to a Child.—A small child, named Fred. Felk, near two years old, was thrown down and bitten by a hog yesterday. He was, however, rescued—his arm only being slightly torn. Juste D. Barent has got some personal friend to address him a letter, that he might write back explaining his treason, and get a fling at the "Black Republicans." We know that the Republicans are tolerably black but that the Republicans are tolerably black, but. Jesse is the "blackness of darkness." Moreover, he is a traitor, ready for the gallows-only he is not yet convicted by the laws of his country, as God has doubtless set him down for the traitor's portion.—Louisville
